Sustainable fashion, also called eco fashion, is a part of the growing design philosophy and trend of sustainability, the goal of which is to create a system which can be supported indefinitely in terms of human impact on the environment and social responsibility. It can be seen as an alternative.

Sustainable fashion is part of the larger trend of sustainable design where a product is created and produced with consideration to the environmental and social impact it may have throughout its total life span, including its "carbon footprint". According to the May 2007 Vogue, sustainable fashion "does not appear to be a short-term trend but one that could last multiple seasons, the very word season being up for grabs in a climate-affected world

Designers are those that create solutions. There is no one right way to be a designer, and all design styles have their strengths. Everyone has a natural style of how they relate, think and work. It's diversity that makes a strong design team.

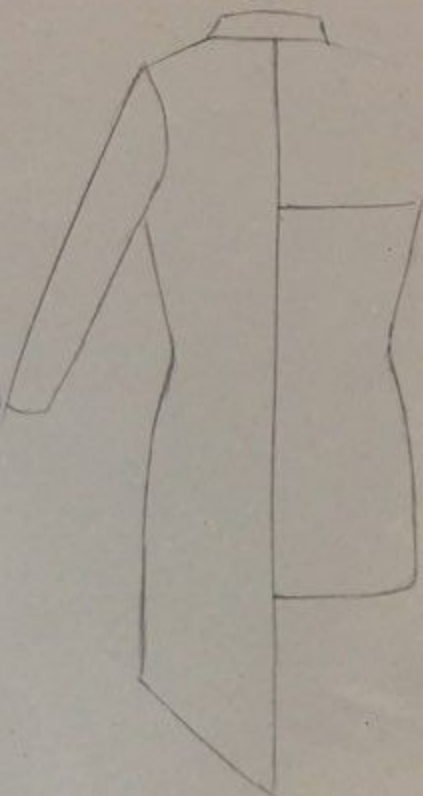

Whether you design products, services or programs, whether you work for Government, NGOs or the private sector, Design Profile gives you deep insights into your, your team, or even your organisation's approach to design and innovation, and how it can be better leveraged
